Beyond the Usual Suspects

Uncovering legal leaders who truly fit

Executive Search & Leadership Advisory | www.saxbam.com

Our legal search stands apart

When you're looking to make lateral partner hires, orchestrate team moves or fill critical leadership roles - like function heads or non-execs, you don't need just another recruiter. You need Saxton Bampfylde - where precision meets strategy.

Success is built into every step of our process

We believe that great hires are just the beginning of great partnerships.

Commercial outcomes first

We are immersed in the legal sector. Not only that, but we've been on your side of the table. (Our team includes a former law firm leader.) That means we don't offer abstract advice; we're laser-focused on commercial outcomes and long-term success for your firm.

Beyond the transaction

Quick fixes aren't our style. We partner with you, aligning with your long-term strategy. We're in it for the marathon, not the sprint.

Ethics over gossip

Some recruiters thrive on whispers. We deal in hard data. Confidentiality, ethics and loyalty drive us, and unlike others, we never pit clients against one another.

Deep market intelligence

There's a world of difference between the obvious and the best and we know how and where to look. That means you get a dedicated researcher who works exclusively on your brief. No cookie-cutter solutions, just tailored results.

Decades of proven experience

For 38 years we've been trusted by some of the leading organisations across the UK. Think MI5, the BBC and Ove Arup. We have handled boardroom-level hires that define industries. That means that we don't just understand the legal sector: we understand business.

A 98% success rate

Our track record is no accident: numbers don't lie. Across our business, an industry leading 98% of our placements are a match that sticks.

Advocacy, not just search

Finding talent means more than cold-calling targets; we evangelise for your firm in the market. That's how we bring you not just a candidate, but a champion.

End-to-end support

Recruitment doesn't end with a hire. We ensure smooth transitions, supporting you all the way through to successful integration.

Your team

Every member of our team brings a depth of knowledge in their own field. We work closely together to consistently deliver our clients the best results and exceed their leadership needs. Our team brings a unique blend of specialist search experience and sector expertise.
